You might also want to let the church office know if there has been any change to any of your contact information.

Health Nugget

ACTIVITY

How does sitting for long periods of time affect your body?
 It often leads to chronic inflammation which causes insulin resistance, arteries to clog, cancer cells to get ignited and the list goes on. If you read about the non-communicable diseases, many times you will see the words "chronic inflammation" somewhere in the explanation.

As an Adventist community, we tend to think we're doing good, we're vegetarian, we don't smoke or drink, but guess what everybody does? Sit in church, sit in meetings, sit at work, sit at home, and then BOOM someone suffers a stroke or gets cancer, and we wonder why, he was a healthy Adventist!
 This is another factor to consider in developing a healthy lifestyle.

What can be done to counteract the effects?
 The good news is that you only need to get up for one or two minutes every hour to break that cycle. What we're finding out now is that once you sit down your body automatically senses that and it knows it doesn't have to keep the muscles active so it actually turns off the electrical system. The body goes on sleep mode basically. Certain chemicals start to be released that actually increase fat storage if you sit for a long period of time. Oxygen levels in your brain start to drop after 20 minutes so people start to get sleepy.
