THEME OF WORSHIP

The preaching of the cross may be foolishness to the world, but to those who are saved it is the power of God. No wonder Charles Wesley declared in his anthem of praise, "Amazing love, how can it be, that Thou, my God, shouldst die for me!"

It is that powerful cross and the love displayed there that moves hearts from death to life. There is an old saying, "The ground is always level at the foot of the cross." It was in the first century, and it still is today. The foot of the cross is where paupers and princes, well-knowns and unknowns, generals and centurions, find level ground to kneel and embrace the Christ who died for them — and for us.

The men and women who witnessed the trial, crucifixion, death, and resurrection of Christ saw more than words can ever express. But what they saw in their lifetime, we have seen in the Scriptures. The book of Romans explains it this way: "So then faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the word of God" (10:17).

If we have heard and believed, it mustn't end there. We must burn with the passion to know Him —the very passion of the apostle Paul, who wrote that his life's goal was "that I may now know Him and the power of His resurrection, and the fellowship of His sufferings, being conformed to His death" (Phil. 3:10).

May that desire burn in our hearts as well, that we might truly know the One who gave Himself for us.
 — Bill Crowder

Health Nugget

There are powerful nutrients in food designed to give us optimal health and harmful foods that can cause disease.

Think of nutrition as a symphony. If you are conducting an orchestra, you want the best possible musicians and instruments. There's no room for off-key notes, broken strings, or anything else that jeopardizes the quality of the music. To create a musical masterpiece, you want only the best.

The same is true with nutrition. If you want to experience optimal health, you need the best possible nutrients. By eliminating unhealthy foods from your diet and replacing them with a wide assortment of delicious, health-promoting foods, you can create a nutritional masterpiece.
